THE WEATHER. MORE ROBBERIES.

The forecast for Tuesday: Considerably colder and generally fair weather and fresh northwesterly winds.

Two South Main Street Saloons Looted Early Yesterday Morning. An early Sunday morning robbery in which Police Constable Kester and Bolin did very effective work by capturing the robbers.

The victim of the robbery is Michael Makrevice, who conducts a saloon at 127 South Main street. Before the trial made a raid on the saloon they broke open a tool house on the Lehigh Valley railroad near the Main street crossing, to obtain tools to effect an entrance to the saloon.

Their first plunder was three barrels of beer which they carried to a boarding house on South Market street, where they were hid behind the wood pile in the cellar. The return trip to complete this "cinch" proved the fatal one.

A warrant was sworn out against the boarding-house keeper, Andrew Gorkiska, for receiving stolen goods. He pleaded guilty to the charge and entered $500 bail for his appearance at court.

No sooner had these cases been disposed of when Mike Chyko, another saloon keeper, appeared and complained that his saloon had also been robbed, and the till tapped $50 cents in change. At this place the robbers were frightened off. Entrance was effected by prying open the window with a pick, which is now being held for evidence.

It was reported that Justice Shoemaker identified the trio as being the guilty ones, causing a second charge of robbery. This case was heard before Justice Shoemaker.

As a result of the part Judge Bechtel took in the motion court proceedings the Township trial was deferred until after eleven o'clock.

Just before the trial opened this morning, John F. Whalen, Esq., counsel for the Commonwealth, was notified in close consultation with Judge Bechtel, and this caused the report to be circulated that Mr. Whalen had in his possession an affidavit setting forth that the jurors had been approached by outside parties, and that the same would be presented in court.

Color was given to these rumors, from the fact that the juror, John F. Whalen, Esq., counsel for the Commonwealth, was notified in close consultation with Judge Bechtel, and this caused the report to be circulated that Mr. Whalen had in his possession an affidavit setting forth that the jurors had been approached by outside parties, and that the same would be presented in court.

Patrick Donlan was called. He said he was 61 years old, and was the father of School Director Donlan. The witness worked at the school buildings in 1896, and received an order for $100. His county tax of 1895 was paid by his son John. He paid no school tax. The witness also stated that his was a sufferer from miners' asthma and was unable to work in the mines. Asked why he did not pay his taxes out of the $100 he received from the school board, the witness replied that he needed the money to get something to eat.

James Donlan was the next witness called, and testified that he did work for the School Board in 1896 to the amount of $17.00. He never received an order for the same. He stated that his brother John, who is a School Director, got the money and gave it to the witness. Of the total amount received, $7.00 went to the treasurer of the family, his sister. The balance is paid to the Shenandoah Lumber and Feed Company for material. While working for the school board he received $2.00 a day; when working in the mines he got only $1.50 a day.

The report of the commission on lunacy in the case of Mrs. Mary E. Morgan was confirmed by Judge Koch and James H. Moody was appointed guardian of the estate and person of the said Mary E. Morgan.

Judge Koch granted decrees of divorce in the suits of Sarah R. Blane against George E. Blane and Lucy Sands against Isaac B. Sands.

Among the cases marked ready for trial is the case of James Smith, of Shenandoah, against the Lehigh Valley Road and Company for damages for injuries sustained by stepping into a cleft in the company's property near its depot in Shenandoah.

On Wednesday morning in St. Katerine church, at Hockschererville, Miss Prendergast, a sister of Father Prendergast of Mahanoy Place, will be united in marriage with T. J. McCormick, of Fiskville. The groomsmen will be Mr. Cormick, a brother of the groom, and the bride will be attended by Miss Nellie Bradigan, of town. She left for Hockschererville this morning to complete preparations.

WHITE PINK EXpectorant Still excels all other cures for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and croup. Can be bought only at Pottsville's drug store, 25 East Centre street. Price 25 cents. If Invitations Issued. A number of invitations have been issued to the medical profession of town to attend a banquet at Zimmerman's cafe, Pottsville, this week. It is being given in honor of Dr. A. H. Halberstadt, of that place. Dr. Halberstadt is the oldest practicing physician in Shenandoah county, as well as the most widely known.

The Alarm Rang. The ringing of the fire alarm about church time yesterday morning caused considerable excitement. It was due to the fine connection in the battery breaking which gave three taps. The other taps were caused by the line breaking. Electrician Lawson was promptly on hand and five minutes after the alarm had rung the system was in perfect working order again.

Strikers Beat a Deputy. Joseph Sobers, the only foreigner who was a Deputy Sheriff at the recent strike trouble, was surrounded by a gang of foreigners at West Hazleton Saturday evening and so badly beaten that his recovery is doubtful. He was relieved of two revolvers and would undoubtedly have been killed only for the arrival of assistance.

Final Rehearsal. The final rehearsal for the entertainment and oyster supper of the Catholic Total Abstinence Society, of Lost Creek, will be held in the hall to-night. The affair will be held on Thursday night in connection with a temperance rally.

THE COUNTY COURT NEWS

The West Mahanoy Case Called Late This Morning.

JUDGE BECHTEL ADMONISHES JURY He Tells Them to be Careful and Allow no One to Discuss the Case With Them Until Their Verdict is Rendered—Civil Court Notes.

Special to EVENING HERALD. Pottsville, Nov. 22.—The trial of the School Directors of West Mahanoy township was resumed here this morning with a large array of witnesses and many spectators in the court room.

MacHenry Wilhelm, Esq., one of the counsel for the Commonwealth, was asked this morning if he could give an idea of how long it will take to close his side of the case and how long the trial as a whole would last. He could say nothing definite in either respect, although he ventured the opinion that the case will not go to the jury before Wednesday or Thursday.

Before the trial was resumed this morning Judge Bechtel and Koch occupied the bench in court room No. 1, and disposed of civil business. A few orders were handed down, after which Judge Koch retired to court room No. 2 to hear motions in civil suits, leaving Judge Bechtel in No. 1 to try the township case.

Judge Bechtel announced that there will be a recess in court on Thursday, next, Thanksgiving Day. The trial of the township case, as a result of the part Judge Bechtel took in the motion court proceedings the Township trial was deferred until after eleven o'clock.

SCALES OF JUSTICE.

Cases Which Were Disposed of by the Justices Yesterday.

The first case to be recorded on Justice Toomey's docket on Saturday night was a charge of malicious mischief preferred by Adam Chafinski against Peter Krick. He was sent to the lockup in default of $500 bail.

A woman Uter had William Domaraitis arrested for assault and battery. Defendant furnished $500 bail.

A cross suit was then instituted in which William Domaraitis was arrested for fighting at a wedding on East Lloyd street. In this case Domaraitis furnished $500 bail.

About 11 o'clock on Saturday night Joseph Utra and Justice Toomey's office and said while he was walking on East Centre street, near Emerick, he was approached from the rear and "rapped" three times on the head with a mace. Large blood spots were left on the floor of the office where Utra stood, while relating his misfortune. His assailant is unknown.

The following cases were disposed of by Justice Shoemaker: Michael McGrail was a defendant in an assault and battery case preferred by William Bonnis. The prosecutor was acquitted his one-year-old infant son, Willis. He furnished $500 bail.

A case of wife beating was next put on the docket when Joseph Zigmund appeared and complained of having been kicked and abused by her husband, Stanislaus. The couple are not on very good terms. Stanislaus was held in $200 bail.

Paul Tabrowski was arraigned on a charge of larceny of a pair of shoes worth $1.00 from the saloon of Stanislaus Zigmund, a fiddler at Wm. Kuprelewski's saloon on East Centre street. Tabrowski pleaded guilty to the charge and settled.

Thomas Utra and his wife, George Zigmund and John Diawallis were arrested on Saturday night for beating William Yanalawicz on the head with a beer glass, otherwise abusing him. Zigmund was discharged, Mrs. Utra was held in $100 bail and the remaining two defendants in $500 bail. This case was continued with a cross suit by William Domaraitis, in whose boarding house the case took place. The charge is fighting. Utra was held in $100 bail, and George Zigmund and John Diawallis, each in $500 bail.

Maidlitz case. Chicken soup, free, to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

Magistrate's Association. A meeting of the association of Schuylkill county will be held in the P. O. hall, No. 18 North Centre street, Pottsville, Friday, November 26th 1897, at 10 o'clock a. m. The intent and purpose of this association is the protection of official authority, jurisdiction and rights under existing laws; to exert influence to prevent all unjust legislation pertaining to the office of magistrate; to secure additional legislation to the end that Justices may have authority to settle petty criminal cases below the grade of felony, and to disseminate useful information among the members of the association. A plan has been adopted by which the association can be made self-supporting. It is desired that the Justices of the Peace of the county attend this meeting. After hearing the plan explained they can then decide whether they will become members of the association. Some thirty are already enrolled.

At Kepchinski's Arcade Cafe. California bean soup, free, to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

Company Store Law Violated. An important suit was tried before Squire Brogan, at Beaver Meadow. The Lehigh Valley Company was the defendant; and John B. Cannon, Patrick Donlan, James Hoyle, Andrew H. Higgins, William Dymon and Patrick Herrou were the prosecutors. The men had incurred a debt in the general store of Dougherty & Co., at Yorktown, and the Lehigh Valley Company, for whom the men worked, retained the wages of the complainants as payment for the bills contracted. The men did not object to the liquidation of the debt by easy installments, but they did object to their entire wages being kept from them. The defendants failed to appear and Squire gave judgment in favor of the plaintiffs.

A Swindler Sentenced. D. W. Ginn, alias J. G. Norris, of Frederick, Md., who was charged by the Kinball Mutual House, of Louisville, Ky., at Scottsburg, Ind., with forgery, was sentenced for a term of 5 years to the Michigan state prison. The loss of the plaintiffs on account of his forgeries was about $500. The readers of the HERALD are familiar with Ginn's case. He first introduced himself to our town people about two years ago as a representative of the Malabar Love piano. During his career here he was charged with appropriating funds collected for other piano firms to his own use. He was held in $1500 bail furnished by O'Neill Bros., and he afterwards skipped. Ginn has a wife and two children in Frederick, Md.

Baker's Cafe. Our free lunch to-night will consist of vegetable soup, free, to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

Breaker to be Torn Down. A large force of workmen were engaged to-day in tearing down the Schuylkill brick yard, Mahanoy City, operated by the Philadelphia & Reading C. & I. Co. The timber will be used at other breakers and the machinery will be shipped to the shops at Pottsville. The structure has been operated 35 years, with a capacity of 500 tons daily. North Mahanoy colliery has been equipped to prepare the coal from both operations.

Breen's Rialto Cafe. Vegetable soup, free, to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

CABINET CHANGES!

Which Will Probably Occur in the Near Future.

SHERMAN-M'KENNA RETIREMENT!

The Former to Go Into Private Life and the Latter to Become a Supreme Court Justice—Postmaster General Gary May Become Senator.

Washington, Nov. 22.—At least two, and possibly three, changes in President McKinley's cabinet will occur in the near future. It is definitely settled that Attorney General McKenna will be appointed to the supreme court bench on Dec. 6, the first day of the new session of congress. It is also certain that before long Secretary Sherman will retire to private life.

The possible change is in the post-office department. Postmaster General Gary has aspirations for the United States senate. He has not yet declared himself a republican candidate in Maryland will insist that he shall do so at an early date. If he can receive reasonable assurances that he will be elected Mr. Gary will enter the campaign and leave the cabinet for that purpose. The president would regret very much to have Mr. Gary leave, and is opposed to his entering the senatorial race. He considers Judge McComas a well equipped man for the senate, and if Mr. Gary decides to remain in the cabinet the support of the administration will be thrown to the judge.

No date has yet been fixed for the retirement of Secretary Sherman, and some of his friends deny that he has any intention of leaving the public service until the close of the administration. The positive statement has been made, however, by competent authority, that the resignation of Sherman will be tendered to the president at an early date. That he would have resigned several months ago but for some newspaper statements which represented him as being mentally unequal for the strain of office. He determined to retire in office long enough to disprove these statements.

When it is shown by official correspondence upon foreign questions which will be laid before congress that he is still vigorous in mind, he will at some opportune time resign. Upon his retirement Assistant Secretary of State Day will become his successor. Mr. Day could have had the office of attorney general if he had desired it, and if there had been any doubt about Secretary Sherman's ultimate retirement the probabilities are he would have accepted it.

No one has yet been selected to succeed Attorney General McKenna. Colonel J. J. McCook, of New York, and Judge Nathan Goff have been seriously considered, but for geographical reasons the president has declined to take either names under consideration. The appointment will go either to the west or middle west. The president will give the appointment to California if he can find the right man there.

It is not certain that Mr. McKenna's nomination to be a justice of the supreme court will be confirmed without serious opposition in the senate. Republican senators are understood to be opposed to his promotion. It has been reported that Senator Hear, chairman of the judiciary committee, to which the nomination will be referred, will oppose the appointment, and in this case confirmation may be very difficult. It is certain that the whole power of the American Protective association will be exerted to prevent the confirmation of Mr. McKenna, on account of his being a member of the Roman Catholic church.

Martin Thorn Again on Trial. New York, Nov. 22.—Martin Thorn was today placed on trial for the second time for the murder of Gudenusapp. Thorn and Mrs. Thorn will both appear on the stand. An important witness not subpoenaed on the first trial will be Constantine Keene, a barber, who was in a shop with Thorne for over a year. On his testimony the state will base the argument that it was Thorne and not Mrs. Thorn, who planned and committed the crime.

Disastrous Incendiarary Fire. Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 22.—The large tannery of the Watsontown Tanning company was destroyed by fire Saturday night, involving a loss of $150,000 and throwing out of employment over a hundred men. The tannery was almost a mile from the fire company, and by the time the department got there the entire structure was doomed. The fire is believed to have been incendiary, for the boilers were far removed from where the flames began.
